Welcome

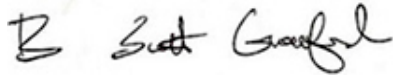

Welcome to the latest edition of Insight!

In our October edition we explore the power of benchmarking and suggest ways of using the practice to improve performance in public libraries.

We are also delighted to feature the success story of Angus Council Libraries in Scotland where the team is integrating collectionHQ Schedules into its workflow.

In Upcoming Events, we announce the dates of our collectionHQ Forum series - check out when we'll be in a town near you. To discover the dates of our Training Webinars, visit the News section of Academy.

Thanks for reading and enjoy our latest news!

B. Scott Crawford, Vice President General Manager, collectionHQ.

collectionHQ Investigates - Benchmarking

Benchmarking as a practice is becoming increasingly popular in Public Libraries worldwide. Our latest Blog investigates the power of Benchmarking and offers tips on introducing it to your library. Click here to read the blog.

Customer Success Story

We were delighted to catch up with Vicky Fraser from Angus Council Libraries in Angus, Scotland about her experience with the collectionHQ Scheduling Module. Vicky shared: "Since April when we introduced the Scheduling Module I can see that Top Charts for Non-Fiction and Fiction have been run 193 times as opposed to 5 before we started scheduling tasks with collectionHQ."
